

Title	Description
The ALS Guide to HTML, CSS, and SQL	Make a PowerSchool page from scratch, giving it structure with HTML, styling it with CSS, and filling it with data you pull with a SQL query, all the while keeping the DOM in mind (2hrs).
The ALS Guide to the DOM, JavaScript and FusionCharts	Master the DOM, while providing interactivity with JavaScript and making your own graph of PowerSchool Data (2hrs).
Express Yourself—Using Java in ReportWorks	Learn to use the kind of Java that doesn't go in your cup to manage the way your reports look and behave (3hrs).
Brewing a Java Application	Make a free-standing Java application that can be deployed on any platform (3hrs).
Java Connections	Get your Java application connected to PowerSchool data (3hrs).
Java Exports	Tune your Java application's configuration so that you can get it to export just the data you want into a text file (3hrs).
Multi-series FusionCharts	Discover how to create multi-series FusionCharts within PowerSchool using JSON to generate the required data set (3hrs).
YUI 3	Explore the new YUI 3 by adding drag and drop and plug-in functionality to FusionCharts, allowing a completely dynamic graph; users simply drag data elements to change variables in the new graph (3hrs).
Introduction to Virtual Tables	See how virtual tables can expand your data options within PowerSchool. Learn how to create new tables, and then develop custom screens to enter and display the data (3hrs).
Virtual Tables and FusionCharts	Combine the functionality of Virtual Tables and multi-series FusionCharts to create a Chart with expandable user-defined data elements (3hrs).
A Developer's Guide to ReportWorks*	Hear from a PowerSchool Developer about ReportWorks—What's under the hood, and what's in the oven (2hrs).

	Day One	Day Two	Day Three	Day Four
Morning	Express Yourself— Using Java in ReportWorks	Java Connections	Multi-series FusionCharts	Introduction to Virtual Tables
Afternoon	Brewing a Java Application	Java Exports	YUI 3	Virtual Tables and FusionCharts
Evening	The ALS Guide to HTML, CSS, and SQL	The ALS Guide to the DOM, JavaScript and FusionCharts	iPhone Apps Roger Sprik A Developer's Guide to ReportWorks*	